

Server Co-Location / Data Warehousing

Leavenworth Online can host your server directly on our reliable, high-speed network. By hosting your server with us, you reduce the need and cost of additional bandwidth on your network, as well as increase the speed with which your customers can retrieve their information. Additionally our staff is available to change backup tapes, install additional hardware and software components. The benefits of co-locating your server with Leavenworth Online are too numerous to list. Please give us a call for more information.
